FREE TO UNIVERSALIZE OR BOUND BY CULTURE?

Philosophy in a Multicultural Context

© Copyright SASI Group (University of Sheffield) and Mark Newman (University of Michigan).

This public conference investigates the relation between philosophy and its multicultural context. Are there immutable questions and universal answers regarding knowledge, values, and reality, or is philosophical inquiry bound by history, geography, and culture? Should the philosopher be responsible to the public? Four panels of local intellectuals from Google, San Francisco State University, San José State University, Stanford, UC Santa Cruz, and University of San Francisco wish to engage with a diverse audience.
