Course Description

The course will involve intensive peer review of papers, class presentations, and in-class exercises. The goals of the course are to enable students:

- 1) to make substantial progress on a research paper (a QE paper, journal article, MA thesis, dissertation chapter, conference paper, etc.);
- 2) to cultivate the ability to assess and provide critical feedback on other philosophers' written work;
- 3) to strengthen the ability to write abstracts;
- 4) to develop the understanding of professional standards, especially as concerns publishing.

Please see the instructor for further details.
