CALL FOR APPLICATIONS:
Humanities Undergraduate Research Awards (HUGRA)

The Humanities Undergraduate Research Awards (HUGRA) support and encourage undergraduate student research. Up to ten awards in the amount of $500 are given each year. Any project involving research within or including any of the humanities disciplines is eligible for consideration. The research must be performed during the current academic year, and have a letter of support from a faculty member.

Proposals will be judged on:
• Intellectual substance
• Promise of results
• Preparation of applicant
• Feasibility

Deadline: Thursday, March 1

Please visit http://ihr.ucsc.edu/archives/cfp-humanities-undergraduate-research-awards-hugra for more information.

John Dizikes Teaching Award in Humanities

Since 2002, Humanities Deans have provided students with the opportunity to honor the teaching efforts of faculty in the humanities by nominating them for the John Dizikes Teaching Award.

Nominations are submitted to the department chair who will choose one to be forwarded to the Dean for this division-wide competition. The recipient will receive a $3000 award and have the honor of selecting a Sophomore or Junior who will receive a $3,000 scholarship. Nominate your favorite Philosophy professor today!

Forms are available at the department office and online at http://humanities.ucsc.edu/academics/awards-fellowships/dizikes.html

Deadline: Monday, April 2